Webinar Description:

Participants will increase their knowledge of the pathways to postsecondary education that exist for students with intellectual disabilities (ID) in Colorado. Inclusive higher education programs across the state are designed for students with ID to receive additional supports at the college level to foster academic growth, social development, and career advancement. As fully included members of the student body, students earn a Comprehensive Higher Education Certificate in their area of study and are graduating with more meaningful jobs, greater independence, increased community involvement, and holistic growth.
